A Message From the President

Explore, experience, connect

Libraries are changing and dynamic places... rocks in the center of communities

Libraries have become vibrant community centers, hubs of activity, education, socialization and entertainment. They offer endless possibilities: a chance meeting with a friend, a conversation with a librarian, a personal quest for materials and resources, or a quiet afternoon by the fireplace with a favorite story or magazine. There's truly something for everyone, every age, at the library.

Today's libraries have technology that transcends time and distance, and tech-savvy librarians are valuable assets in our information age. Library patrons access information from around the world, and avail themselves of collections online, any time, every day. Yet, we continue to hear from our patrons that their visits to the libraries themselves are cherished activities. People still want to browse, touch and even smell books.

Carmel Public Library "anchors" our community today. Carmel Public

Library Foundation and the Library Trustees, engaged together with our constituents, continue to be forward thinking about our evolving services for tomorrow.

It is thanks to YOU, our donors, that so much is happening at Carmel Public Library. Thank you for recognizing the value the library plays in our community. We hope you will continue to be our ambassadors.

—Ben Heinrich

Missing Martha Mosher

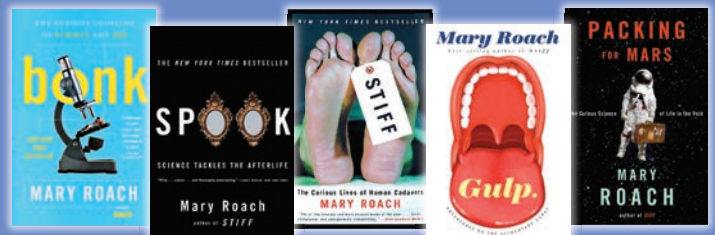

Join us in offering a fond farewell and heart-felt thanks to Martha Mosher who recently moved to the Bay Area closer to her family. Martha served as a Library Trustees as well as a founding Carmel Public Library Foundation Board Director. She's given the community countless hours of volunteer expertise. Her intelligence, creativity and generosity will be deeply missed.

An Invitation to Join Our Library Legacy Donors

The annual reception in honor of Carmel Public Library Foundation's Sterling Circle Donors will be held on Sunday, June 19 at 3pm.

The Sterling Circle Program is the cornerstone of the foundation's future funding capabilities. This program

"Libraries are magical! They answer questions, entertain, encourage, enlighten, and engage. They provide unending possibilities to anyone who walks through the door. I love that the library is the great equalizer of people. It doesn't care if you are rich or poor, old or young, wealthy or impoverished — all are welcome. Carmel Public Library does all that in one the most beautiful settings in the world. I am proud to be a Sterling Circle member — what a wonderful legacy!"

— Sterling Circle Donor and former Board Director Cheryl Carter

recognizes planned giving donors who demonstrate their deep commitment to the library by including the Carmel Public Library Foundation in their estate plans and wills. Sterling Circle Donors play a key role in ensuring the library's place in the community – open and free – for generations to come.

In conversation with

Science Friday's Ira Flatow

Get ready for an irreverent evening of science on the wild side as bestselling author Mary Roach takes the stage in conversation with Science Friday's radio talk show host and executive producer, Ira Flatow. Mary and Ira share a passion for making science discussion a part of our everyday lives. Ever-curious and funny, Mary will keep you in stitches as she shares her exploration and wonder of "how things work" that led her to write her books: Bonk: The Curious Couplings of Science and Sex, Gulp: Adventures on the Alimentary Canal, Packing for Mars: The Curious Science of Life in the Void, Spook: Science Tackles the Afterlife, and Stiff: The Curious Lives of Human Cadavers.

Mary's writing has been published in multiple languages all over the world and appears regularly in National Geographic, Outside, Wired, and the New York Times Magazine.

Ira's show, Science Friday, "Brain Fun for Curious People," heard by more than 2 million people each week, airs on nearly 400 public radio stations throughout the United States, including our local station 90.3 KAZU, National Public Radio for the Monterey Bay Area, a community service of CSU Monterey Bay.

Your $55 ticket includes wine tasting from local wineries in the Sunset Center lobby, followed by the program.
